DEDICATE OLD BRIDGE SUNDAY

The Peepystown bridge, also known the as Bair's fording and Pee Wee Town bridge, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock was dedicated as an "Adams County historic site" and as a relic of the covered wooden bridges which once crossed most of the streams in the county. The program was arranged by the Adams County Historical Society.

Dr. W. E. Tilberg, who gave the dedicatory address, noted that where there had been 70 covered bridges in the county at the beginning of the century; by 1952 the number had been reduced to 24. "Now there are about 10 and soon only three will be in existence - all of them to be permanently maintained so that future generations may view what once represented a great advance in bridge building."

The bridges to be preserved, Dr. Tilberg said, are the Peepystown bridge dedicated Sunday. and the Sachs bridge, at the waterworks south of here, both which are to be maintained by the county and townships involved, and a bridge near Conewago Chapel which is to be preserved by the state.

300 ATTEND PROGRAM

"The other bridges will disappear because of the needs of modern transportation," Dr. Til-, riding "Sugar" won second in Methodist Church Saturday evemately 300 gathered for the dedi-

The present wooden bridge dates from 1889, the year of the Johnstown flood, when it was constructed to replace a prior wooden covered bridge swept away by flood waters. The present bridge was saved 45 years ago by the residents of the area, he recalled. Flood waters threatened to dislodge the bridge, but the area residents built small dams which prevented the water from lifting the bridge and as a result the structure remains for preservation into the future."

Speaking on "Memories," Dr. Tilberg stressed the importance people recall back to their youth. Historians dig into what people remember to record in the past in order to bring to us a picture of what past times were like.'

Set Dates For Xmas Mailing

In anticipation of the increased mailing of parcel post packages to other countries during the holiday season, the United States Post Office Department has established the following dates for surface parcels to normally reach their destination before Christmas:

Far East, October 15; Africa and Near East, November 1; South and Central America and Europe, November 10.

Air service is available to practically all countries of the world. It is recommended that airmail packages be mailed during the early part of December in order to reach the addresses before Christmas.

The long sea transit frequently involved in the transmission of parcels by surface means, and customs inspection and other formalities that parcels may be subjected to in the countries of destination, require that mailings be made as early as practicable to assure delivery by Christmas

Built by the Lozier Motor Company, the Meadowbrook Raceabout enjoyed a fine reputation as a racing car. In 1911, a 46-horsepower Lozier beat a 90-horsepower Fiat, setting world's records by averaging 80.5 mph.

The distinguishing features of the Meadowbrook Raceabout were the squared-off radiator; the acetylene gas generator, mounted on the left running board, and the angled windshield with its supporting post.

For business and for pleasure, throughout the year. the automobile is an essential part of American life. Each year sees an increased number of cars ' on our streets and highways, bringing with them increased problems of highway safety.

Today's automobiles may be "better than ever," as their manufacturers boast, but today's drivers still make careless mistakes, take foolish chances and disregard simple courtesy, causing needless and tragic accidents. Safe driving is simple-it's merely a matter of caution, care and consideration.
